

Payment Policy and Terms

THANK YOU FOR YOUR INTEREST IN BECOMING A MEMBER AND TRAVELING WITH US!

Before you become a member with our group, whether you are just dining with us at the Diva Dinner Table, or traveling with us on the many experiences that we create throughout the year, it is important that you acknowledge and understand our payment and liability polices.

- You acknowledge that Black Girls Travel Therapy (BGTT) does not refund membership fees neither in full or partial.
- You understand that membership is non-transferable and only covers the original intended member. Please note, membership may be purchased as a gift and this is the only exception.
- You acknowledge that BGTT does not refund trip deposits. When you secure your spot on one of our many experiences, that is a spot that becomes unavailable to someone else. So it is important that you are committed to your trip. However, you may be able to transfer your deposit to another BGTT trip with the okay and permission of BGTT in advance.
- BGTT is not responsible for any bodily injury, slips, falls, damage to your or anyone else's property that may result in any form while traveling or dining with us.
- You acknowledge that although everybody's idea of fun may vary and that although we take pride in our unique travel experiences, that if your experience was not as expected and/or you chose not to take advantage of everything we had to offer, we assume no liability and there are no refunds. This being said, we take our experiences seriously and try to exceed member expectations and we are very receptive to feedback on how to improve the experiences that we offer.
- You understand that BGTT holds no liability and that it is your responsibility to inform both BGTT and the establishments/restaurants that we visit if you have any allergies or health concerns that need special attention or accommodations for your own health and safety and for those around you.

I Acknowledge all of the above Black Girls Travel Therapy & Dinner with Divas polices
